

Cable improvements go on line

New cable television programming is offered for the first time to many Glades residents today and, according to Sunbelt Cable officials, the addition marks the completion of the repairs and improvements the company promised when it took over the system last spring.

The expanded system will open eight basic cable channels and one premium cable channel to subscribers in Belle Glade, Pahokee and South Bay.

A converter box will be needed to receive the signals of all the basic stations and the two premium stations, ac-ording to Kevin McLaughlin, a vice president with the company.

New stations offered as part of the basic monthly fee will include the Christian Broadcast Network, the Nashville Network, Nickelodeon, Cable News Network, Music Television, Black Entertainment Television, the Dow Jones Network, and USA Network.

The Christian Broadcast Network (CBN) will share space on the dial with Public Broadcasting Network affiliate WHRS-TV channel 42 and Black Entertainment Television (BET) will share space with Dow Jones, ac-ording to McLaughlin.

A second premium channel, Cinemax, will join Home Box Office. Those channels can be received through a special converter for additional fees of $9.50 each. If a subscriber takes both of the premium channels, the total bill will be reduced by a dollar, said McLaughlin.

A converter will be needed to receive all basic channel signals. The dial on the television set must be set at three and all dial channels two through 20 will be received by turning the dial on the converter.

A different type of converter will be needed for those receiving one or both of the premium channels. Subscribers with that type of converter will also receive all basic and premium channels through the converter while the television dial is to remain set at channel three.

A $25 deposit is needed for the converter boxes. Those receiving HBO through the old system have small boxes that required a $20 deposit. Those boxes and an additional five dollar deposit would be enough for a new box, according to McLaughlin.

He added that subscribers to the basic service only could still receive channels 2 through 13 on their television dials with no converters, but added that the converter boxes would provide additional charges with no additional monthly fees.

Cable-ready televisions may be able to receive the basic channel signals, but the premium channels, HBO and Cinemax, will be scrambled and any subscriber to those channels, including those that own cable-ready television sets, will need the appropriate converter to pick up the signal.

HBO subscribers won't be able to receive the premium channel through the old converter boxes soon after the change-over is made, according to McLaughlin. The new converter boxes can be obtained from Sunbelt offices starting December 1 and McLaughlin said subscribers are urged to obtain their new converter boxes before December 15.

The new boxes will have charts on their tops to explain what stations are located at particular numbers on the dial.

The company is also preparing to improve its complaint and message system, according to Sunbelt President Ed-

Graham makes appearance

PRIDE directors have annual meeting here

By JEFF BROWN

There is no more important program than PRIDE in the Florida corrections system, Governor Bob Graham told a group of corrections, business and PRIDE officials at a meeting in Belle Glade Monday, November 28.

Graham's remarks and brief appearance were the highlight to a similarly short annual meeting of the PRIDE (Prison Rehabilitative Industries and Diversified Enterprises, Inc.) board of directors.

"There are some basic problems in any institutional setting," said Graham, and he added the program is one attempt to assist the Department of Corrections in addressing those problems.

Most inmates of the Florida corrections system are relatively young people who had never held a job and have a low level of education, said Graham, and the corrections system should try to help people in prison improve the lives they lead after they leave the system.

"I think we would be wasting a great opportunity if we do not take advantage," said Graham.

PRIDE is also part of a "central, key strategy" in dealing with the problems of prisoners' idleness and the expense of running a prison, according to Graham.

"We have some high expectations and goals for this program," said

Graham.

Those goals and expectations include turning over all the prison industries to the program by July 1983 and getting a third of the inmates to participate in it.

"I am tremendously optimistic and appreciative of the gains we made so far with the program," said Graham.

After viewing a 10 minute video tape that outlined the PRIDE program and its goals, Graham made his remarks and left.

The board of directors then met in a regular annual business meeting that lasted about one hour.

During the meeting, Chairman Jack Eckerd told the board that the corporation had received over $200,000 in donations from the private sector. He pointed out that most of the donations were solicited with the word that it would be a one-time only solicitation and that PRIDE wouldn't be back for more donations in the future.

"We're through with the private sector route," said Eckerd.

President J. Floyd Glisson told the board that the program had accomplished its initial goal of forming a cooperation between the state, PRIDE and the private sector.

The bond between the three must be strengthened if the program is to succeed in its goals of finding

Brief appearance

FLORIDA GOVERNOR BOB GRAHAM, at right, made a brief visit to the Glades area Monday, November 28, to take part in the annual PRIDE board of directors meeting. Standing beside Graham is Glades Correctional Institution Superintendent Robert V. Turner who is also on the corporation's board of directors.

Murder suspect charged, police credit citizens for aid

PAHOKEE - The arrest of a suspect in what one law enforcement officer called a "totally brutal, merciless, senseless killing" over the weekend is due to the cooperation and information received from Pahokee citizens and residents, according to officers with the Glades sub-station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department.

Ronnie Lee Harris, 19, of 796 Padgett Circle in Pahokee, was arrested early Sunday morning, November 27 and charged with the beating and death of Ben Hartman, 76, 452 Friend Terrace, Pahokee.

Harris was also charged with sexual assault upon Hartman's wife, Beulah, 83, and with armed burglary of the residence.

Harris allegedly entered the Hartman residence Saturday, November 26, between midnight and 2 a.m.

He supposedly beat Ben Hartman and Beulah Hartman, two deaf mutes who had been married for 49 years.

The two were taken to the hospital when the attack was discovered and Ben Hartman died of injuries sustained in the attack at 7:45 a.m.

Harris was arrested at 3:50 Sunday morning on a warrant issued by Circuit Judge Lewis Kasper.

Mrs. Hartmann had apparently assisted the police in creating an artist's rendition of the suspect and local citizens helped the police locate the suspect who bears a resemblance to the drawing.

"Without the excellent cooperation of the citizens of Pahokee and the Pahokee Police Department, this case would not have been solved as rapidly as it was," said Haller, echoing sentiments expressed by station commander major Frank Fogelman in the press release.

"People of all ages were cooperative. Kids waved us over from the road side to tell us they knew of someone that matched the drawing we distributed. The extreme cooperation we got was just super. I'm just amazed at the amount of cooperation we got from the people and the (local) police," said Haller.

Haller said Mrs. Hartman's help was also instrumental in arresting a suspect.

"She was as reliable a witness as anybody we had to deal with," said Haller.

The suspect is a life long resident of Pahokee and Haller said he knew of no motive for his alleged attack on the Hartmans.

Gators will meet Frostproof

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - After the Glades Day School Gators beat Baker for the class A state football title last December, Coach Byron Walker said he was hoping the Gators would play Frostproof during the championship playoffs.

He was anxious to avenge the 33-6 drubbing Frostproof handed the Gators that season.

"We still feel the same way," said Walker, whose team will travel to Frostproof Friday for the sectional playoff game. "We're still not over that whipping they gave us last year. It will take a lot of wins before we're even."

Since then, the Gators have racked up one of those victories, a defeating Frostproof 17-3 November 4.

Walker is obviously hoping to topple Frostproof once more this year. And stakes are a little higher than just team pride.

The game will propel the winner into the state championship. If the Gators win, they'll play host to the state championship next week and have a chance to clinch their second state title in as many years.

The Gators' trip to the sectional playoff was set up when they beat the Miami Northwest Christian 21-0 last Friday evening at Gator Field in Belle Glade.

The Gators took the opening kick-off and marched downfield to score their first touchdown with only 3:41 left in the first quarter.

Philip Echols carried the ball over from the four-yard line and Mike Schlechter made it 7-0 with the extra point.

That and a little defense was all the Gators would need.

The Eagles pushed to within 16 yards of the goal line in the first half, but penalties pushed them back and the Gator defense forced the Eagles to turnover the ball at fourth and short.

Before the half ended, the Gator offense found itself pinned at its own nine-yard line. Brian Lohmann threw long to Mike Schlechter who caught the ball and carried it in for the touchdown. Schlechter, who added his second of three extra-points after

City may want untidy lot

BELLE GLADE - Belle Glade city officials are looking into the possibility of acquiring a vacant lot from its owner as a gift, but in the meantime, the city will be caring for the lot at the owners expense.

The lot at 204 - 220 Northeast Eighth Street, was the subject of controversy at the Belle Glade city commission meeting Monday night, November 28.

Residents of the vicinity of the lot complained that the lot was overgrown and unkempt, and asked what could be done to clean it up.

City Planning Director Remar M. Harvin explained that the lot's owner was usually out of the state but was contacted and agreed to send the city payment for having the lot cleaned on a monthly basis.

He said as soon as the city received the check it would start caring for the lot every month.

The owner had also inquired into the possibility of giving the lot to the city as a gift, according to Harvin.

He said the lot is landlocked and there is no access to it. He added that a fire hydrant in the rear of the lot is unnecessary and could be moved and used elsewhere.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman asked Harvin to

Christmas program planned for center

BELLE GLADE - The Ridge Presbyterian Church and the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center will present "A Christmas Program" Saturday, December 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the center.

Tickets for the performance are $7 and reservations are suggested by program director, Judy Schiele at 996-3055.

The performance will feature four groups. The first is a 60-voice adult choir singing traditional and popular Christmas music, according to Schiele. Hand bell choirs, under the direction of Daniel Miller will perform "Bells of Praise". The group features a 13-member bell choir ringing 61 bells of five octave range.

Schiele said the boys choir, known as the King's Choir, will join with the adult choir in performing the "Bach Cantata Number 140". She said the cantata was first performed in 1781 and is based on a Lutheran hymn celebrating a symbolic marriage feast between the daughters of Jerusalem and Christ, the bridegroom.

The Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church group will perform the opera by Gian-Carlo Menotti entitled "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

The musical director is Roger McMurrin, who, according to Schiele, has been responsible for the development of two of the largest church programs in the United States.

"Everyone in the Glades area wishing to highlight the Christmas season will be enthralled by the music and voices of this excellent production," said Schiele.

"As we're expecting a large crowd, please call for or come by the Palm Beach Junior College to make your seat selections," she said.

Program set for Dec. 3

BELLE GLADE - The Glades Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta is sponsoring its annual Jabberwock program Saturday, December 3 at 8 p.m. at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

Those girls vying for the title of "Little Miss Jabberwock" include DanElla Bythwood, Raquisha Cato, Omika Griffin and Nicole Lindsey. Junior Miss Jabberwock contestants are Katerina McCoy, Monica Taylor, Nikol West and Tarsha Holloway and Miss Jabberwock contestants are Tammy Harris, Michele Jackson and Naomi Oliver.

Contestants raised money to help with Delta's "C" scholarship program by soliciting advertisements from area businesses. The program is open to the public at no charge.

the reception, had returned a Frostproof kickoff three weeks earlier and ran at back for a school-record 97 yards and a touchdown.

He finished the game with nine points, five receptions and 172 yards.

In the second half, the Eagles had pulled to within 30 yards of the goal line once, but the Gators took the ball over when the Eagles failed to convert at fourth-down-and-inches.

"The defense was as solid as a rock," said Walker.

The Gators added their final touchdown in the fourth when Philip Echols capped an 11-play, 58-yard drive by carrying the ball in from the four-yard line.

Schlechter's kick made it 21-0.

"I thought we played very well," said Walker. "We made some mistakes but nothing that can't be worked out this week."

The Gators picked up 208 yards on the ground and 203 in the air.

Now Walker and the Gators have turned their attention to Frostproof. Walker said that fans can expect the Gators to be more aggressive than they were in the regular season game with Frostproof.

"We'll concentrate on doing things well that we did against them in the regular season," said Walker. "We'll play more wide open than in the regular season."

Injuries shouldn't be a factor in the game from the Gators' side of the field.

"To my knowledge, we're in a lot better shape than last Monday," said Walker.

Kick-off is 8 p.m. at Frostproof.

pursue the offer of the lot as a gift to the city.

Residents of the area asked if the unnecessary hydrant could be moved to the middle of the street and Fire Chief Pete Webb and Altman said that the hydrant wasn't needed on the street. When the residents disagreed, Webb pointed out that the Insurance Services Offices recommends there be only 500 feet between hydrants in industrial areas and 1,000 feet between hydrants in residential areas.

The two hydrants on the dead-end Northwest Seventh Street are slightly over 500 feet apart which gives the area about twice the recommended protection, he said.

Altman said the federal standards used to determine where to place hydrants are generally conservative and Webb said the only street in the area that was under-protected was North Fourth Street, which could use another hydrant.

ward F. Addiss.

Belle Glade City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang, Jr. said that his biggest problem with the company's efforts to improve and upgrade the system has been an inefficient and apparently ineffective complaint handling system, and Addiss and McLaughlin agreed the system had to be improved.

"When they (subscribers with complaints) can't get you, they call the mayor. When they can't get him, they call another commissioner. When they can't get one of them, they call me. This has to be rectified," said Strang.

McLaughlin said an improved method of dealing with that problem is expected to be in effect soon after the new services go on line.

He said the new services offered by Sunbelt are "just as good as any in Florida."

"We've done what we said we were gonna do," said McLaughlin.

The improvements to the system involved replacing 15 miles of cable and "dozens" of modulators and units and adding two Earth stations to the 13-year-old system.

The new equipment and the improvements give the company the potential to expand the system to 36 channels without changing the converter boxes.

Addiss said there are no immediate plans to expand the services, but it does plan to expand sometime in the distant future.

"Eventually, yes, we will," said Addiss.

"I'm sure that they have kept their promise," said Strang at a press conference Sunbelt had at Belle Glade city hall to discuss the improvements.

employment for former inmates who pass through the program and helping defray the cost of the corrections system.

PRIDE has placed five former inmates in private sector jobs in its first year, according to Gilson. "The board members agreed that it will be a while before private sector employers gain enough confidence in graduates of the program to offer a large number of positions to those graduates."

"In my mind, they're some of the best employees," said Eckerd. "Because they know they've been fingered. I don't think for some time that we're gonna have an industry lining up, knocking on our door."

Eckerd said that Graham had urged the program to strengthen its automotive service and construction programs since those are of vital interest to Florida and could provide a large amount of job opportunities.

PRIDE is attempting to use more efficient bookkeeping and accounting methods to make prison industries more profitable. In some cases, one industry has been scuttled in favor of another at the same site, such as PRIDE's decision to turn the GCI operated 20 Mile Bend cattle ranch into a sugar cane farm.

Gilson said the resulting profits on sugar cane alone are expected to reach about one million dollars this year. GCI also has other industries in operation such as vegetable farms, citrus orchards and a canning plant.

Another problem PRIDE may have to address in the future is compensation for work by inmates in industries that aren't profitable, said Eckerd.

The corporation isn't required to develop a compensation plan for inmates until after the industries they work in become profitable. Most industries aren't profitable yet so most inmates in the program aren't paid.

Inmates working in profitable industries are being compensated and that fact has been covered in the news media, causing ill feelings with uncompensated inmates in other industries.

Eckerd said PRIDE eventually may have to consider subsidizing compensation for prisoners in unprofitable industries.

Arcing transformer burns playing child

PAHOKEE — A 10-year old Pahokee girl is still in serious condition after undergoing surgery for burns she received while playing at a transformer last Friday, November 25.

According to reports by officers with the Glades sub-station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, Mary Michelle Bohannon, 10, of lot number three in Keens Trailer Park, Pahokee, and Tina Hite, seven, also of Keens Trailer Park, were playing at a switching station on East Main Street in Pahokee when a transformer in the station arced.

The arcing caught Bohannon's clothes on fire and apparently burned Hite's face.

Hite apparently went for help and brought one of her uncles to the scene. Hite's uncle pulled Bohannon out of the station and extinguished the flames.

Hite and Bohannon were transported to Everglades Memorial Hospital where it was determined that Bohannon had suffered burns over 70 percent of her body and was transported to the burn center at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami.

According to a Sheriff's Department detective, Bohannon had undergone surgery Monday to remove the dead tissue.

The switching station the incident occurred at is owned by United States Sugar Corporation and law enforcement officials said the arcing was caused by the children throwing rocks and other items at the station.

Annual Ducks Unlimited Banquet set for Elks Lodge

BELLE GLADE - The annual meeting and dinner of the Glades chapter of Ducks Unlimited will be tonight at the Belle Glade Elks Club. The cocktail hour starts at 6 p.m. and the dinner will start at 7:30 p.m. The cost is $35. Twenty dollars is annual dues for Ducks Unlimited membership and $15 is for the dinner.

Ducks Unlimited was founded in 1937 to help restore and rehabilitate prime waterfowl breeding grounds in Canada, where, according to a news release from the national headquarters in Illinois, over 70 percent of North America's waterfowl are hatched. The release goes on to say that since its inception, Ducks In-limited has completed more than 2,100 wetland restoration projects. The present membership of Duck's Unlimited stands at approximately 455,000. In 1982, the organization raised over $34 million for other outdoor and wetland habitat restoration and has set a $41 million goal for 1983. Following the dinner at the Elks Club, there will be an auction and drawing for commemorative shotguns. According to Rick Lyman, spokesman for the Glades organization, there will also be 15 various framed wildlife prints and other outdoor and fishing items given away. Tickets for the drawing are available at the door.

Pathology group to serve Hospital

A group of Fort Myers pathologists has been selected to replace Dr. Mario Ramos who retired as Glades General Hospital's staff pathologist in October. The group, Rosier and Associates, will work with lab technologists and technicians at Glades General, evaluate and update lab procedures and make sure the hospital is complying with state and federal regulations, according to a hospital release. Glades General's clinical laboratory is responsible for analyzing blood, tissue and secretion samples to determine the nature and cause of diseases and guide physicians in the treatment of their patients. Four pathologists from Rosier and Associates will work with Glades General's lab on a rotating basis. The pathologists include Dr. Peter Rosier, M.D., dermatopathologist (diseases of the skin); Dr. Stanley Sprei, M.D., hematologist (blood); Dr. Tamara Sanderson, M.D., clinical microbi-ologist; and Dr. Kathleen Bates, M.D., blood bank specialist. Each Wednesday a different pathologist will come to the hospital to evaluate quality control, instrumentation and lab procedures. Karen Kelley, laboratory supervisor, said the team approach will enable the hospital to retain the services of professional pathologists at a fraction of the cost of one full-time staff pathologist and maintain a high degree of quality control.

Boe's goes full circle

B & B Auto, Inc. has opened in Pahokee under the co-ownership of Skeets Boe and Paul Boese.

According to Boe, the original business, owned by his father, Olaf Boe, started in 1931 as a blacksmith shop and garage.

"We have come full circle now," said Boe. The garage is located at 2015 East Main Street in Pahokee.

The garage handles major and minor overhauls and and Boese said they also do air conditioning and brake work. Boe said their work is guaranteed.

"We also have very reasonable rates and we handle gas and diesel engines," he added.

Boese and Boe said they can be contacted between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. at 924-5511.

Poisonous plant seminar slated

To assist residents in identifying some of the more common poisonous and allergic-producing plants that might be found in a person's landscape, Gene Joyner, urban horticulturist with the Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Service, will conduct a free slide-illustrated seminar on poisonous and allergy-producing plants at the Belle Glade Extension Office, 2979 North 441, Belle Glade, Friday, December 2, at 9:30 a.m.

In addition to the slides, pamphlets on poisonous plants will be given out to those attending.

Cane League elects officers, looks to the future

By JIM JONES
The Florida Sugar Cane League elected its officers and directors for 1984, reviewed the past year, and looked ahead to the future during its 20th Annual Membership Meeting in Clewiston Friday, Nov. 18. Harry T. Vaughn, Jr., beginning his second year as League president, said a record crop of 13 million tons of sugarcane did not mean record profits in 1982-1983.

Increasing production costs and a lower price for sugar prevented this, he said. "American consumers and the domestic sugar producers owe a great debt to the Reagan administration for administering the sugar program. We are extremely fortunate to have a very well managed sugar program which protects the grower and the American consumer from unfair dumping practices of foreign sugar suppliers," he said.

If foreign producers were allowed to dump their sugar on the American market at the 13-17 cent per pound range, it would "devastate the domestic industry and affect prices of products containing sugar," he said.

Hundreds of growers would fail and the consumer would face "extreme roller coaster" prices which would be inflationary to the public, he said.

League efforts during the past year centered on:

✓Maintenance of the current sugar program. "Industrial users and some sugarcane refiners have tried to sabotage the program several times, but each time the U. S. Congress has reaffirmed their support and belief in the need for a strong, viable domestic sugar industry."

✓Continuation of the exemption of unemployment compensation taxes for off shore workers. Another two year exemption was passed into law last month.

✓Intense industry involvement in the Simpson-Mazzoli Immigration Bill.

"Unfortunately, our industry's worthwhile H-2 program was used as a scapegoat by outsiders who attempted to sabotage this valuable piece of legislation. We took some hard knocks which were not only unfair but untrue and unjustified. But I am proud to say that our industry continues with our current H-2 program which has been in existence since 1943, some 40 years now - a program that benefits employer and workers and one that has withstood the test of time."

The League also addressed state legislators, environmental issues, agricultural research, public relations, and safety, Vaughn said.

"We should all be resolute in our belief that working together we can continue to be a healthy and viable industry and thus we will all benefit. However, the real beneficiary will be the American consumer," he said.

League elects officers
League officers elected for 1984 included Harry T. Vaughn, Jr. - president, Fritz Stein - first vice president, Antonio Contreras - second vice president, Nelson Fairbanks - secretary-treasurer, Horace Godfrey - vice president and Washington representative, Dr. Joe Orensigo - vice president for research, Alex Fanjul - assistant secretary-treasurer, and Dalton Yancey - executive vice president.

Directors elected included Sam Knight and Francisco Pons of Atlantic Sugar; Arthur Kirshtein III, Alvaro Carta, and Antonio Contreras of Gulf and Western; Alex Fanjul and Jose Angel of Osceola Farms; Bob Apelgren, George Wedgworth and Fritz Stein of Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida; John B. Boy, Harry T. Vaughn, Jr., Nelson Fairbanks, Alan Mayo, Frank Polhill, and Atwood Dunwoody of United States Sugar Corp.; and independent growers Gene Dodgen, Joe Marlin Hilliard, and Alfredo Sanchez.

Media award
Fritz Stein presented the League's Media Award to Dean Jones, former long-time editor of the Belle Glade Herald-Observer and currently a staff writer for the Palm Post/Times bureau in Belle Glade. Jones was recognized for his objective and accurate reporting of the sugar industry.
